Project Management

2. What is your ultimate career goal?

My ultimate career goal is to build my own entertainment company specializing in animation, games, and comics, with a mission to challenge and reform the abusive practices that currently affect the animation and coding industries. I want to create a studio where creativity thrives without exploitation.

3. What was your primary reason for accepting PTK membership?

I am a first-generation college student without much to my name before community college, I saw PTK as my chance to be apart of something bigger than myself, participate in fun projects for my community, and challenge myself as a leader.

4. What's your go-to "fun fact" during an icebreaker?

My go to "Fun Fact" during an icebreaker is that I'm a professional princess for kids' parties.

5. If you could thank your past self for one decision, what would it be?

Ironically, dropping out of high school. When I left high school at 16 as a failing student, I went straight to the workforce, there I was able to rekindle my desire to go to school. Returning on my own terms is what allowed me to flourish in the college setting as an honor roll student.

The mundane good morning greetings from everyone I pass by when I arrive on campus. It reminds me I exist and takes me out of my own head.

Being multi-lingual in any language, being mono-lingual is my biggest personal disappointment. Sorry Grandma!

Pump it by Black Eyed Peas or any Queen song.

Talking to my partners on discord. Whether we just all do independent tasks together or play Dungeons & Dragons. If they aren't available, I'll hit the ice rink and skate.

10. What's your favorite tradition – family, personal, or something you invented?

Every Valentine's day, for the past decade, a childhood friend and I go on a friend date to Red Lobster to catch up, even if we don't see each other for the rest of the year.
